WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. sources reported Friday that dictator Francois Duvalier has mounted a reign of terror in Haiti, including murder, torture, arson, widespread arrests and a sweeping purge of military officers.

The Duvalier regime in Haiti declared martial law and imposed a curfew Friday.

Duvalier acted soon after the departure of an inter-American peace team which had rushed to this Caribbean island to head off an impending clash between the Dominican Republic and Haiti.

Post Office Funds Restored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General J. Edward Day announced Friday that the Senate Appropriations Committee on Friday restored $50 million of the $69.8 million the House sliced off his operating budget for the next year.

But Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, fighting to get back at least $30 million which he says is necessary to hire enough Internal Revenue Service agents to catch tax evaders, was voted only $9.2 million.

If Day's victory stands, senators said, it should enable him to halt plans to cut Saturday deliveries and force some office dwellers and new homeowners to call at post offices for their mail.

Red Diplomats Called Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the threshold of his 40th year as FBI director, J. Edgar Hoover said Friday that Soviet espionage in the United States continues to be a most potent danger.

He added that Soviet diplomats assigned to the United States and United Nations "represent the backbone of Russian intelligence operations in this country."

Two Helicopters Attacked in Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Two International Control Commission helicopters were shot at and set afire Friday in east-central Laos by neutralist Premier Prince Savanna Phouma was there on a peace mission.

Informed sources said the helicopters apparently were attacked by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, which has barred the three-nation commission from its territory in the area of the Plain des Jarnes. One unconfirmed report said four persons were killed.

Fidel's Day Off

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev and Prime Minister Fidel Castro are taking a few days off.

On a hectic schedule since the Cuban's arrival, Khrushchev and what Tass officially described as a rest in the Moscow region.

Sources in Algiers said Castro would end his Soviet tour about May 24, then visit Algeria.

Koslov III?

MOSCOW (AP) — Reports persisted Friday that Frol Koslov, Premier Khrushchev's designated successor, is ill. But some sources insisted he is on vacation.

Koslov failed to show up for either of the big Red Square demonstrations this week, the one for Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro Sunday and the May Day parade.

Nasserites Quit

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Members of the Syrian government aligned with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic were reported Friday to have resigned, clouding the future of the proposed new Arab federation of Syria, Iraq and Egypt.

Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Friday eased back irregularly from its latest 1963 peaks in moderately active trading.

Trading was heavier Friday, turnover totaling 4.76 billion shares compared with 4.43 billion Thursday. A good deal of this was accounted by an assortment of very large blocks, representing transactions of big investment institutions.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed with a loss of 3.01 at 718.08.

Monroe County Attack On Polio Starts Sunday

STROUDSBURG—Doctors, nurses and citizens will start a final assault against polio in Monroe County on Sabin Oral Vaccine tomorrow.

SOS plans are complete for distribution of 40,000 sugar-lump doses at eight Monroe County clinics (see chart at right for times and places).

County headquarters of SOS are in the Pocono Medical Building in East Stroudsburg.

Elmer B. Chura, manager of the Bell Telephone Co., in Stroudsburg, announced last night that an information center to answer questions about Sabin Oral Vaccine will be installed today.

People having any questions about the program can dial 421-7200 for answers.

Polio, a dread disease for decades, has been a dread killer and crippler for decades. Efforts made by developing the Salk vaccine, and now Sabin oral vaccine, have knocked the disease down, but it has yet to be counted out.

There is one way to conquer this enemy — take the vaccine.

Even if you have had Salk shots, you should take the vaccine. Everyone from six weeks to 100 years old should take it.

The reason for this is that the vaccine prevents people not only from contracting the disease, but also from being a carrier — a person who is not affected but can infect others.

And to be completely effective, a person must take all three doses.

Type I will be given tomorrow, Type II on June 2 and Type III on June 30.

In a recent SOS program held in Wayne and Pike Counties, 64 per cent of the population was immunized. That's good, but it's not enough. Monroe County should turn out in full force to snuff this child-crippling ailment down.

Dr. Hans Brehm is director of the program. He said, "A close-knit team has been formed to carry out the anti-polio drive." Dr. Perry Stearns is clinic-station committee chairman, and Dr. R. F. Jones is chairman of the finance committee.

Volunteers among local people have been enlisted to help dispense the vaccine — and a donation of 25 cents is asked to cover costs, though no one will be refused.

These men and women are giving thousands of minutes to protect you and your children — you can give a half-hour or less to make sure the disease is wiped out.

The vaccine is given on a sugar lump, and has no taste. No known bad or allergic effects have been reported.

ANSWERING SERVICE — These operators will answer questions about the Sabin Oral Vaccine Sunday programs from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., tomorrow and on June 2 and June 30. Just call 421-7200. Standing are Dr. Hans Brehm, left, Sabin Sunday, program

Airliner Crashes With 49 Aboard

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A Brazilian two-engine airliner with 42 persons reported aboard crashed in flames into a thickly populated area of Sao Paulo shortly after takeoff Friday night. A witness said the plane caught fire and exploded in flight.

Apparently there were some survivors. Sixteen persons were reported hospitalized, six in grave condition, and it was believed some if not all of them were among the 44 passengers and five crewmen aboard the Convair airliner.

Adding to the toll, a Sao Paulo fire department vehicle rushing to the scene rammed into a crowd at a crossing, killing four pedestrians, police reported.

Pan-Am Games Site

Sao Paulo is the site of the current Pan-American Games, in which a large U.S. team is participating.

Most of the passengers were believed to be Brazilians. However, among the first dead identified was James G. Hughes, director of the General Electric Co. in Brazil—an Uruguayan citizen who had lived in Rio de Janeiro for many years.

The Convair, of the Brazilian airline Cruzeiro do Sul was in trouble immediately after its take-off from Congonhas Airport en route to Rio de Janeiro, 300 miles northeast of Sao Paulo.

"The right engine was burning," said a witness, Emílio Batista, an airline employee who lived near the crash scene. "I said, 'God, it's going to explode!' Then, it did."

Batista said the airliner plunged straight down. One section of the plane sheared away a large residential building, reducing it virtually to rubble. The building was being remodeled and was unoccupied at the time.

Another large section struck 600 yards away. Other burning and twisted parts were scattered over a large area of the crash scene, eight miles from the center of this industrial center. Some parts hit at least one other residential building.

Sixth Since Nov. 24

It was the sixth major Brazilian plane crash since Nov. 26. In the previous crashes, 184 persons were killed.

The plane crashed at 7:30 p.m., sending flames into the night sky. Within minutes, a throng of at least 20,000 persons ran and pushed their way to the scene through police and fire department lines. It was into this throng that the fire department vehicle plunged.

Three Murderers Escape Gas Deaths

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Two of three murder plotters were 15 steps and 105 minutes away from death in the gas chamber Friday when they got word the executions of all three had been stayed by a U.S. Supreme Court justice.

"You're not kidding me are you, warden?" pleaded John Frank Vlahovich, 31, looking up from what he thought was his last breakfast. The hour was 8:15 a.m.

At 10 a.m., after a short death march, he and Donald G. Franklin, 34, were to be seated, side by side, strapped to chairs in the gas chamber, waiting for fumes to snuff out their lives.

Police Dogs Chase Negroes In Alabama Integration March

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Snarling police dogs chased away crowds of Negroes and fire hoses flattened youthful demonstrators Friday as hundreds of Negroes tried to stage anti-segregation marches.

Five Negroes reported they either were bitten by the leashed dogs or injured by water hoses which a fireman said had pressure of 50 to 100 pounds.

Police jailed an estimated 200 Negroes on charges of parading without a permit. Nearly 700 demonstrators were arrested Thursday, bringing the total of arrests to 1,300 since the desegregation campaign began April 3.

As Negroes stepped up demonstrations, Mayor Albert Boutwell appealed for "restraint and peace."

Boutwell, considered more moderate than his predecessors, pledged "immediate and determined attention to resolving the difficulties facing us." But a two-government dispute has delayed his taking full authority.

He urged a halt to demonstrations.

"I hope and pray that the adult citizens, white and colored alike, will realize that the future of a great city, depends upon their good conduct and self-restraint," Boutwell said.

Ambulances took four Negroes from the church where the demonstrations started near the downtown business district. Milton Payne, 23, exhibiting leg wounds said he was bitten by a police dog.

Some Negroes, mostly onlookers, tried to resist officers and one pulled a pocket knife on an officer with a dog. Policemen grabbed several belligerents and at least one was caught around the neck by an officer.

About 60 Negroes were jailed in the first series of attempted marches. Two hours later, 50 other marchers were turned back by water hoses.

After two diversionary marches in the block around the church, about 50 teen-agers started marching toward the downtown area. They had skipped school classes.

Police blocked off the entire section surrounding the church. Another group of marchers left minutes later, headed in another direction.

An unidentified white man attempted to run his car into one group. He was jerked from the car and arrested by officers.

With firemen brandishing their hoses, a policeman with a loudspeaker warned the marchers, "Disperse or you'll get wet." The teen-agers, most of them 13 to 16, kept moving.

Hit By Water

Then the water hit them. Covering, first with hoses over their heads, then on their faces or clinging together with their arms around each other, they tried to hold their ground.

The hoses were turned on the crowd of several hundred Negro spectators. They began yelling in protest.

Some of the Negroes, milling in the park opposite the church, began yelling threateningly at officers. Police Commissioner Eugene Connor ordered the dogs brought in.

"All you gotta do is tell them you're going to bring the dogs," said Connor. "Look at 'em run. Bring the dogs anyway, captain."

After calling for the dogs, Connor yelled to an officer who was holding back a crowd of white onlookers.

"Let those people come to the corner, sergeant," Connor said. "I want them to see the dogs work. Look at those niggers run."

Rocked Hurled

The crowds of Negroes fled, with policemen and dogs running after them. Some Negroes threw rocks and other missiles either at the dogs or the officers.

Swinging nightsticks and harringtons onto the dogs, the policemen chased the Negroes back into the vicinity of the church. There was no report of anyone being struck by a policeman's stick.

The marching attempts followed announcement by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Negro integration leader, that an all-out desegregation campaign had been launched with demonstrations Thursday.

Justice Department Leak Claimed In Cassini Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counsel for society columnist Igor Cassini accused the Justice Department on Friday of feeding secret grand jury testimony to a magazine writer.

Attorney Louis Nizer said the writer used the information in an "inflammatory" article about Cassini published in the Jan 19 edition of the Saturday Evening Post.

Cassini who wrote the "Cholly Knickerbocker" column for the Hearst newspapers, was indicted Feb. 8 on charges of failing to register as a publicity agent for the late Dominican dictator Rafael L. Trujillo.

Nizer asked U. S. Dist. Judge William B. Jones to consider ordering a full-scale investigation of his charge that the Justice Department violated the secrecy of the grand jury that returned the indictment.

Judge Jones said he would give Nizer an opportunity to go to New York City to interview an unidentified witness. The attorney said this witness was present at a meeting attended by a Saturday Evening Post official, during which a statement was made that the Justice Department had helped in the preparation of the article.

A spokesman for the Saturday Evening Post said in New York that the magazine had no immediate comment on Nizer's charge.

Nizer said the Justice Department not only gave secret grand jury testimony to the writer of the Post article, Peter Maas, but also reviewed the article prior to its publication and made changes to conform with grand jury testimony.

Nizer contended the article was inflammatory to such a degree as to prejudice Cassini's rights. He asked for dismissal of the indictment on the ground of alleged violation of the grand jury's privacy.

A Justice Department attorney,

Kevin Moroney, told the court that Maas had signed an affidavit swearing he had not received any grand jury information about the Cassini case from either the administrative or the legislative branch of the government.

Nizer contended the Post had violated fair standards of editorial freedom. He said freedom of the press is important, "but the Sixth Amendment guaranteeing a fair trial is also important."

Judge Jones said he would grant a motion to postpone the trial until next fall because of the recent death of Cassini's third wife, Mrs. Cassini, the former Charlene Wrightman, daughter of a millionaire Palm Beach, Fla., oil man, died April 9 of an overdose of sleeping pills.

Cassini has been on leave of absence from his column-writing job pending the outcome of the four-count indictment which charges he shared in more than $300,000 in payments as an agent of the Trujillo regime.

Each of the four counts carries a possible maximum penalty of years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Grass Fire Spark Ruins Pocono Home

MOUNT POCONO — The home of Lawrence Steffenhagen, Knob Rd., was hit by fire yesterday at 5:15 p.m. The fire was started by a spark from a grass fire along the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad.

Fire Chief Ernest Bishop said firemen were called out at 4:55 p.m. to the first blaze. Before they arrived the original fire ignited four other small fires.

Bishop said, "The house could not be seen by firemen because of the heavy smoke from the grass fires. The firemen did not know the house was on fire until they worked down that way."

The house is a two and one-half story frame building. The entire inside portion of the roof was destroyed. Chief Bishop estimated the loss at $2,000.

Last night Mt. Pocono firemen were again called out at 10:15 to extinguish a small blaze in the same area.

Red Chiefs Admit Possible Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has now admitted for the first time the possibility of defeat in war, an Air Force analyst concludes on the basis of a study of Russian military writings.

Further, he says, the Soviet high command apparently is divided over strategy in this age of missiles and hydrogen warheads.

Lt. Col. Murray Green, associate chief of research and analysis, U.S. Air Force, reached these conclusions in a 270-page, typewritten analysis of the first comprehensive discourse on military doctrine to appear in the Soviet Union since 1926.

Green's report was made at the request of Herbert B. Shovar, senior civilian analyst in the plans division of Air Force Intelligence. It is an analysis of the book,

"Military Strategy," published in Moscow last September under the editorship of Soviet Marshal V. D. Sokolovsky.

The book is a compilation of the military writings of Sokolovsky and 14 other top-ranking officials. That it appeared at all gives it official sanction. It was issued in a first edition of 20,000 copies, all of which were sold almost immediately.

Green notes that it is filled with doctrinal contradictions reflecting the diverse military theories of the 15 authors, in itself an unusual occurrence.

Green's analysis, made available to The Associated Press this week, concludes that the book must be taken seriously as a reflection of Soviet military thinking despite its shortcomings.

"The book has done more than any other," Green writes, "to encourage realism in the Soviet Union about nuclear war." It concedes the possibility of civilian casualties "in the tens of millions."

Battlefield casualties are discussed in these terms: "It is possible that entire subdivisions, units and even groups will be destroyed. However, this should not have any bearing on the speed of operations."

Green interprets this to mean: "The Soviets expect to fight to win. They have not succumbed to the defeatism which argues that destruction will be so great as to make pointless a need to prosecute the war in the most vigorous way possible."

Green also notes that "for the first time, the Sokolovsky study openly discusses the theoretical possibility of defeat. The Soviet Union is now strong enough militarily, and conscious enough of her strength, to discuss chances of defeat dispassionately."

The Air Force analyst calls attention to the line: "The laws of strategy are objective and apply impartially to both sides."

Green then writes, "There is no more frank or significant statement in the study than this one for it reflects the Soviet Union's return to reality."

"War is the universal test of the material and spiritual resources of either side, and victory will not necessarily go to the 'just' Socialist bloc but to the side endowed with the greatest resources."

"Upon this basis, 'Military Strategy' has opened the whole issue of ultimate victory to bilateral discussion."

Repentance And Forgiveness ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buecher

Scripture—Psalms 51; 103:13-14.

King David, the Psalmist, was visited one day by Nathan the prophet, who in a parable made the king recognize a great transgression he had made against God.—II Samuel 12:1-15.

For David had forced his attentions upon Bathsheba, beautiful wife of Uriah, and because of the situation that resulted, he arranged to have Uriah killed.—II Samuel 11.

When David recognized his great sin, he acknowledged it to God, and prayed for forgiveness. A contrite heart is a true sacrifice to the Lord, and He cleanses us.—Psalm 51:2, 17.

From this experience David was inspired to write Psalms 32, 51 and 103, praising God's forgiveness. Thus he teaches others.—Psalm 51:13, 14. GOLDEN TEXT: Psalm 51:17.

The Beecher Bible And Rifle Church

WABAUENSEE, Kan. (AP)—A 101-year-old church, with the intriguing name of "The Beecher Bible and Rifle Church" and a history dating back to the pre-Civil War slavery fight, still holds regular services in this little northeastern Kansas community.

Origin of the small church traces back to anti-slavery preaching by the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church in Brooklyn in 1800. He was the brother of Harriet Beecher Stowe, who wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The church's founders came west from New England, determined to keep slavery out of Kansas. Beecher had addressed the colonists at New Haven before they began their journey. He provided $25 to buy 25 Sharp rifles and gave each a Bible and hymnbook, thus furnishing the colony its name. Other persons raised money for 25 more rifles.

The colonists, more than a third of whom were Yale graduates, went to St. Louis by train, to Kansas City by steamboat and on the Kansas by overland wagon train and on foot. A mile-square townsite was marked off but dreams of a city faded when the railroad was built across the Kansas River. Today Wabauensee has no post office and is not carried on some maps.

The church was formally organized in June 1857 as "The First Church of Christ in Wabauensee." Its charter said the church was "Congregational in form but not in name and, in fact, as unsectarian as possible."

The present building was constructed in 1892.

It is still non-sectarian and draws its approximately 100 members from the surrounding farm area. Preaching assignments are alternated by the Rev. Robert H. Hoels, of Alma, and the Rev. Irwin Stegner of Bellevue.

One instance is recorded of the COINCIDENT with the Billy Graham Crusades in the Orient next spring, a group of laymen known as "Overseas Ambassadors" are planning to leave February 23 for a tour of the Orient. Their executive director is Sven Jensen of Overseas Crusades Inc., in Palo Alto. "The Ambassadors," according to Mr. Jensen, "will not only attend the Graham meetings in Manila, Hong Kong, Formosa and Tokyo, but will have opportunity to invite their key contacts to attend the Billy Graham Crusades with them."

WASHINGTON (AP)—A permanent organization, the National Newman Foundation, has been set up here to strengthen Catholic influence and activities on U. S. college campuses. More than $60,000 has been pledged to the foundation so far to aid Newman Clubs, the Catholic student centers at colleges not under Catholic auspices.

Central EUB Notes Rise

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Membership in the Central Pennsylvania Evangelical United Brethren Conference showed a one per cent gain last year to 49,493, the annual meeting was told yesterday.

A total of 240 ministerial and lay delegates were certified for the 126th annual conference.

The delegates heard reports of a significant gain in Sunday School attendance last year, up to 38,190 in the conference area from 31,220 in the previous year.

Dr. Herman W. Kaebnick of Harrisburg, bishop of the eastern area, is presiding over the sessions, which closed yesterday.

The conference was told in another statistical report that contributions for all purposes last year totaled $3,214 million.

Today's Lesson:

Repentance, Forgiveness

By N. Speer Jones

THE THREE psalms in today's lesson are ascribed to David, whose own personal experience with God's forgiveness for a grave sin enables him to write with great conviction on the subject.

His sin, of course, was his adulterous liaison with Uriah's wife, Bathsheba, while Uriah was away at war (see II Samuel 11). Then, to compound the crime, when David discovered that Bathsheba was pregnant, he sent Uriah into battle in such a way that he might be killed.

A rebuke by the prophet Nathan made David realize how sinful he had been, and made him seek God's forgiveness. From this profound experience came the psalms we study today.

The first condition necessary for a reestablishment of communion with God after any offense is referred to in the second verse of Psalm 32—there must be no guilt or deceit in the individual's heart. In other words, he must be completely honest in dealing with God.

Notice that three words for sin are used in verse one and two—transgression, sin and iniquity. God's pardoning mercy is also described in three ways—the sin is carried away (forgiven), hidden (covered) and ransomed (imputed not).

The only directly autobiographical part of this psalm is found in verses three through five, in which David describes the misery that was his before he acknowledged his sin to God. There is no greater misery known to man than the separation from God which occurs when man knows he has done wrong, but cannot acknowledge it.

Verses eight and nine appear to be not the words of David to God.

The word "wicked" in verse 10

does not mean only lawless or evil, but also unbelieving.

Famous throughout the ages is David's great prayer for pardon, Psalm 51. The title itself carries the direct connection between this psalm and David's great transgression with Bathsheba.

Briefly, it can be said to include an introductory beseeching for cleansing (verses one and two), the direct confession of his sin (verses three through six), an extended prayer for purity (verses seven through 12), the consequent proclamation to others of God's goodness (verses 13 through 15), and the kind of sacrifice (the contrite heart) which pleases God (verses 16 through 19).

We find a parallel passage regarding the true or inner sacrifice in the life of King Saul (I Samuel 15:22, 23).

Psalm 103 has been called a psalm of meditation. Its outstanding feature is its revelation of a man alone with his own soul. In this it is very similar to Romans 7.

The last two verses assigned this lesson point up the essence of God's pardon; His pity is not exerted toward those who rebel against Him, but toward those who seek to please and obey Him.

RECRUITING of more than 15,000 counselors will begin next month in preparation for the Billy Graham Southern California Crusade in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, August 16 through September 8. Counselor-training classes under supervision of Charles Rages, director of counseling for the Crusade, will begin May 8 and continue through June 8. Counselors accompanying the Crusade will respond to Dr. Graham's invitation to the counseling room and, with open Bible, attempt to show the solution of their problems.

Parson To Parson

by Roderick MacLeod

MOST PEOPLE who are always talking about heaven don't seem to be in too much of a hurry to get there! Perhaps it is because we never seem to be quite ready, and hope to put off the trip as long as possible.

Then, too, perhaps we always promise ourselves that we will one day really understand our own particular faith and why we believe as we do. So many of us are inclined to be Christian church goers because it may be a status symbol, a place for meeting "the right people"—or because it is just a habit formed when we were made to attend by God-fearing parents.

The act of attending church (or doing God a favor) does NOT make one a Christian anymore than going into a stable once a week makes one a horse!

As a general rule, churches themselves are to blame for this condition as too many seek a membership (on paper) and rush a strange face into membership with the "holiness" of how easy joining is and what wonderful social times members can enjoy.

As a result, far too many church members today do not have the remotest idea as to why a Presbyterian is not a Methodist, or a Lutheran not the same as an Episcopalian, or why Baptists differ from all the others.

In fact, all they know for sure is that they DO belong to their special church. It never enters their heads to ask themselves why they believe in that church is doctrine or method of worship, nor does it seem to matter that the task of being a true Christian is not a matter of one hour a week but is a full time job!

All that seems to matter is that the minister suggest—the clear, hard facts as stated in the Bible into a soothing, palatable talk, the main theme being "How Good, You Are!"

A rule of thumb guide for any church's standards is just how close or far away they are from what is stated in the Bible. The mark of a true Christian faith is first, repentance for sins, second, acceptance of Jesus Christ as Saviour and King of your life, and third, the following in His footsteps of the way of life outlined for us in His Word.

Even a rough smattering of this knowledge requires more study sitting in a pew. Half of that time we can deduct as sleeping time. We need to study the Bible day by day and also study the creed or doctrine which we claim to believe.

As a test, and just for fun, ask your friend, "Just why are you a Methodist?" (or whatever happens to be) then be paid to be astonished. Chances are that he really will NOT know!

Let's not only talk about heaven, but be prepared to go there, and while waiting for that departure, be an intelligent and active working member of a living faith equipped with knowledge to help another find Christ too!

Guest Speaker Scheduled For Sunday

MOUNTAINHOME — The Rev. Gordon A. Christensen will be the guest speaker at the 9:30 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. services in the Mountainhome Methodist Church Sunday.

He will also be present at the congregational gathering at 5 p.m. when a soup and sandwich supper is planned.

Rev. Christensen has recently returned from missionary work in the far East.

He is a specialist in writing and in audio-visual work. He was the Methodist news correspondent for Oklahoma and wrote articles for several American Methodist publications.

Mr. Christensen received his bachelor of divinity degree from Chicago Theological Seminary. He has also studied at the University of Florida and the Philippine Christian College.

Designed For Living

DURING the week, May 6, to 10, the Rev. Luther Markin will lead the daily devotions, Design For Living on WVPO. Rev. Markin is a retired Presbyterian minister, a former pastor of The Church of The Mountain, Delaware Water Gap.

Demos Hold 3,411 Vote Edge In County

STROUDSBURG — Democrats held a safe majority of the 18,882 voters registered in Monroe County for the May 21 primary.

But Republicans cut the September 1962, Democratic margin by 423 voters. It left the Democrats far ahead with 11,025 to the 7,414 Republicans.

Other voters registered in the April 18 breakdown were 148 non-partisans and 94 independents. Democrats hold the edge in 31 of the county's 35 election districts.

In recent elections, especially for state and national offices, Republicans came up with the majorities in Monroe County. Last November Gov. William W. Scranton carried the county over his Democratic foe, Richardson Dilworth.

Two years ago in the battle for the presidency, Republican Richard Nixon got a much bigger vote than President John F. Kennedy.

The last General Election on the county level Jeannette Batory, incumbent recorder of deeds who is a Republican, received one of the biggest votes in Monroe's history to gain the public office.

Voters registered for the Republican Party outnumber Democratic voters in only Paradise, Eastern and Western Tobyhanna and Stroudsburg's fifth election district.

And Republicans blank Democrats 2 to 0 in Mount Pocono Annex, a special election district for the May 21 primary.

The district also has two independent voters.

One lonely prohibitionist still registers for the battle against alcoholic drink. He is Herbert Poolley, 80, of 1027 North Ninth St., Middle Stroud election district. Born in Cornwall England, he is a retired concrete products manufacturer.

Districts in which Republicans outnumber Democrats are: Paradise—805 (R) to 228 (D); Eastern Tobyhanna—252 (R) to 222 (D); Western Tobyhanna—109 (R) to 86 (D); Stroudsburg fifth district—345 (R) to 335 (D).

The parties tied in Eastern Coalbaugh district with 56 registered voters each.

Districts in which the Democrats are ahead are:

Adolph LaBadie, 68, Portland

ADOLPH LaBadie, 68, of Portland, died at 8:50 a.m. in the General Hospital of Monroe County yesterday after an illness of 10 days.

He was born in Bound Brook, N.J., the son of the late Henry and Justine Moless LaBadie, and was a resident of Stroudsburg most of his life until moving to Portland 10 years ago.

He was a retired silk weaver. He is survived by one son, Charles Morrell LaBadie, Stroudsburg RD 5; one brother, Christian LaBadie, East Stroudsburg; one sister, Ida LaBadie, Philadelphia, and one grandson.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the William H. Clark Funeral Home, with the Rev. Harold C. Eaton officiating. Cremation will be Monday in the Maple Hill Crematory, Wilkes-Barre.

Friends may call Sunday after 7 p.m. at the Funeral Home.

Foster Home Drive Gets Added Boost

THE FOSTER Home Recruitment campaign of the Children's Aid Society is getting an assist from local business men who recognize the importance of having foster homes available for children who must, for one reason or another, live away from their own homes.

Mrs. Horace Butler, president and Mrs. James Kitchen III, chairman of the public relations committee, report an encouraging response in their efforts to expand the campaign through advertisements. The local business firms they approached to sponsor the series of ads were receptive and quick to realize the need.

The series of ads will also be educational, attempting to give a composite picture of the relationship between the child, the foster home, the agency and the own parents. There are now 35 foster homes in use in the county, serving the 53 children

Camporee Of Scouts At Flagler Run

FLAGLER RUN—The 1963 Spring Camporee, Pocono District, Delaware Valley Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, is in progress now.

Camping started on the Flagler Run property, north of Stroudsburg off Chipperfield Drive yesterday, and will continue through noon Sunday.

Competitive events are scheduled during two three-hour activity periods today. All will be conducted on a patrol basis.

The first period runs from 9 a. m. to noon today, and includes bugling, compass use, water boiling, lashing, and demonstration as competitive events. The second is this afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m., and includes tent peg making, judging height and distance, demonstration, and tug-of-war.

Patrols will be judged and scored on initial unit inspection, pack inspection upon arrival and departure, organization of campsite plot, shelter and bedding, improvisation, care of tools, cooking and food handling, safety and sanitation, Scout-like conduct, leadership and program, participation and attendance, and final inspection at time of departure.

Catholic Scouts will attend mass at St. Luke's, Stroudsburg at 8 a. m., with transportation provided. Protestant Scouts will attend 8:30 a. m. services on the campsite, and Scouts of Jewish faith should make reservations to attend Saturday services when registering.

For additional information, contact Ralph Heilig, Bill Sheeley, John Stark, Asher Resh, Ed Buck, Herb Ayers, Jack Raymond, or Charles Jenkinson, who need such foster home care. They have an impressive record of serving, totalling 248 years and 136 children.

Building Leased For Car Agency

STROUDSBURG — Thomas Was III, of Morristown, N. J., has leased the Rodenbach building on N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, for use as a car agency and garage.

Wiss, owner of Wiss Motor Co., will be the Volkswagen dealer in Stroudsburg. He will use the building temporarily until he can construct a building to house his business.

Wiss was formerly a Dodge dealer in Morristown, N. J., and the owner of Plaza Motors, also in Morristown.

Butz Expresses Optimism In May Primary Election

FLOYD BUTZ of East Stroudsburg, former Register of Wills and Recorder of Deeds, again a candidate for the Democratic nomination for this office, said yesterday he felt "better" about his campaign than in the previous months.

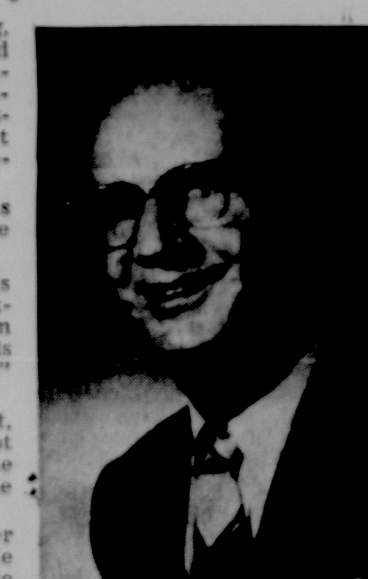

Butz said he has gained this view from talks with the people in the county.

"The administration of this office calls for a man with experience and a man who can devote full time to the needs of the Monroe County citizens," he said.

Butz said that his opponent, as a funeral director, has not given full time to serving the people in the office to which he was elected.

Butz also said a "few other items" are also in his favor. He declined to mention these "other items" except to say he would do so in a "week or so."

In conducting a vigorous campaign, Butz has also visited Register of Wills chiefs in neighboring counties in order to stay abreast with the latest developments of that office.

Construction Starts On 11 Ski Trails

TANNERSVILLE — Construction is moving ahead on the Camelback Ski Area under the backing of the Camelback Ski Corp.

Ground was first broken on Sat., April 27. It is scheduled for completion December 15.

There will be 11 ski trails at the site, which will accommodate 2,000 skiers daily. Three lift and a main lodge will be constructed.

The names of the trails are descriptive of their difficulty. Only nine are named so far. They are Margie's Desire; Rat-tle Snake; Rocket, Yankee Doodle, Sweetheart, R i c h Widow, Broad Street, Sullivan's Trail, and Deutsch Strudel.

First stage construction at the site along the eastern slope of Big Pocono will include a main lodge, a parking facility, and a series of ski lifts which will carry 3,000 skiers per hour.

A 2,500 foot double chair lift will carry intermediates and experts, and will handle 1,200 skiers per hour. Other lifts include an 1,800-foot T-bar and a 700-foot J-bar for beginners.

Pocono Creek will deliver water for a complete bank of snow-making machines.

The shops are situated on Big Pocono, which is state owned land from the top of the mountain until one third of the way down. The rest of the land is privately owned.

The trails will converge at the bottom of the mountain on the lodge, which will include a cafeteria, a completely equipped ski shop offering rentals, repairs, the latest in ski fashions and equipment, a lounge area and a first aid area.

Everett In Serious Condition

Escaped Convicts Charged With Beating Local Residents

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — A Pennsylvania tourist was in serious condition Friday at a Brunswick hospital for his wife appeared to have escaped with only minor injuries when they were attacked and robbed by two escaped convicts.

William Henry Everett, 62, East Stroudsburg, Pa., underwent surgery for a knife wound which pierced his windpipe.

County Police Chief O. E. Burch obtained warrants against the convicts who were recaptured six hours after they fled the scene of the assault on the tourists.

They were listed as Stony Barrett, 25, of Columbus, Ga., and Ronald Chesley, 30, of Savannah, who fled a state prison camp near Milledgeville, Ga., Tuesday.

The two also were charged with robbery by force which like the other charges carries a maximum penalty of death.

Burch said the convicts admitted lying in wait at a roadside park on U.S. 17 ten miles south of here with the intention of robbing and exchanging cars with a tourist.

Burch said the convicts admitted binding and gagging the Florida-bound couple battering them with a shotgun butt, then piercing the neck of Everett with a pocket knife until they thought him dead.

He said they attempted to kill the growing woman by stomping on either end of the shagreen barrel placed over her throat as she lay bound on the ground. The convicts thought Everett was dead and dragged Mrs. Everett another 100 yards into the woods so she would not be found, Burch said.

Arthur Case's Funeral Held

MOUNTAINHOME — Funeral services for Arthur W. Case were held at the Methodist Church with the Rev. William MacLachlan officiating. Interment was in Oakland Cemetery, Mountainhome.

Gravestone services were held by Fort Penn Lodge 13, 100 F. Pallbearers were Albert Wilkins, H. E. Werkheiser, Lewis Halterman, Leon Parcell, Joseph Starnes and A. L. Storm.

"I'm Going To Pray For You"

Mrs. Everett was quoted as telling the pair, "I'm going to pray for you. Don't do this," as the convicts tied the couple's hands with fishing cord and part of a sweater, tied them to a tree and took $300.

The fugitives were spotted when they stopped for gas at Waycross, Ga., after Mr. and Mrs. Everett had been found by passing motorists and the license number of their car was broadcast to police throughout South Georgia.

Flash Convicts Out

Bloodhounds flushed the convicts from a wooded area after the Everett car was found abandoned on a dirt road. The dogs also located the knife and a flashlight taken from the Everett car.

Relatives here said the couple left here Wednesday morning for a vacation in Florida.

State Other Cars

Lee said Barrett and Corsey stole cars en route to Daytona Beach, Fla., and returned to Savannah before stopping at the roadside park where they encountered the Everetts.

Lee said the seizure of the two cars only about 45 minutes after bloodhounds were brought into the search.

"After we put them in a car we asked them about the knife and one said he threw it into the woods," Lee said. "My dogs found both the knife and a flashlight taken from the Everett car."

Fatal Stabbing Revealed

The attack on the Everetts recalled the fatal stabbing of Nicholas M. Cucaris, 18, Bangor, RD 3, last Dec. 29 while he and Daniel Florio, 22 Ackermanville, were returning from a Florida vacation.

Wilton Edwards, 39, Baxley, Ga., was sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying and his nephew, Robert Edwards, 19, was placed on probation for five years.

The knife occurred after a car bumping incident on U. S. Route 1 near Baxley.

Dollars Down The Drain

It wasn't front page news in Washington when the General Accounting Office reported to the House Civil Service Committee that waste, inefficiency, flouting of the law and other shortcomings of Government agencies had cost the public something over $300 million.

The report didn't cover all spending or all agencies, and the figure used here was arrived at by adding up just a few items which could be definitely priced. For example, "over" $100 million was paid erroneously by military services to servicemen, poor vehicle maintenance practice lost $65 million in the Army and Air Force, and overpayment of $155 million for helium gas production was charged by the GAO.

The Congressmen on the committee were described by an observant journalist as "shocked" and "dismayed," and well they might be. The bill for this waste comes to about $6 for every American family.

The GAO report observed that Government employees who waste money are not held to account. They keep their jobs, get raises and even are given promotions.

Now, President Kennedy has urged the Congress to pass another new pay raise bill with a $250 million annual cost.

It is no wonder that our civil servants let money slip through their fingers in the light of the Administration's attitude toward spending. We are told that a deficit planned at almost $12 billion is nothing to worry about, but that on the contrary the economy would take a plunge if the Government didn't keep the money flowing out. The philosophy is that it doesn't make much difference what the money is spent for, so long as it is spent.

If the Administration leaders take this line, why should underlings be careful?

But the Government doesn't belong to the officials; it belongs to the citizens. The citizens take a different view. Rep. Clarence Chamberlain, of Michigan, polled his constituents who are largely union auto workers. He found that 83 percent want the budget cut. Other Congressmen report similar sentiments. Why don't our officials who spend in the name of the people, save as the people prefer?

Television Text

Scranton Hits Democrats In Sales Tax Plea

The following excerpts are from Gov. William W. Scranton's television speech Wednesday night on the need for increasing the state sales tax.

It's only human to grieve about taxes. No matter how justified they might be, there's hardly a citizen around who doesn't wish that taxes could be done away with.

The exasperated citizen — who uses state government services every day without really being aware of them — is acting in a very natural way when he exclaims, "What the dickens are they doing with the money?"

Where is the money?

Over 42 cents of every dollar collected in taxes by the state government goes to grade schools and high schools in Pennsylvania. It's not really spent by the state government at all. It's turned over to the local school districts, for the most part, and they spend it locally.

Then, higher education — colleges and universities — costs an additional 6.4 cents out of every dollar spent by the state government.

If you add the two of them — basic education and higher education — together you find they account for 48 cents out of every tax dollar collected by the state government — $49 million a year!

Welfare Children

Then, there's the welfare program financed by the state government. It takes 12.6 cents out of every dollar the state spends. It goes for public assistance payments and grants to the unfortunate, the poverty-stricken.

There is no question but that "welfare" and "public assistance" have become very emotional, very controversial terms.

In the heart of every taxpayer — in the heart of every human being, for that matter — their lurks a feeling of healthy revolt at the thought of being played for a sucker. All of us wonder — we can't help it — just how many chiselers are there on the relief rolls?

Undoubtedly there are some. When I became governor, I instructed the Department of Public Welfare to institute a new, more thorough policy of locating the chiselers and getting them out of public assistance. This is being done, and we shall continue to do it.

Certainly, we shall continue our efforts to expose the chiselers. Certainly, we shall do everything in our power to return relief-rolers families to a normal way of life. But, nevertheless, who among us will throw the first stone? Who will forget that "there but for the grace of God go I" and suggest that Pennsylvania stop spending money for welfare?

Cutting Waste

I can give you no absolute guarantee that there's not a single dollar wasted in the vast array of services provided for citizens by state government. Much the opposite, I suspect that there's a good deal of waste and inefficiency. This administration has only been in office a little over three months and heaven knows we've found a good deal of it already.

"I am opposed to a wage tax or income tax at this time for Pennsylvania. If elected Governor I will do everything possible to avoid any kind of tax increase."

That's what I said campaigning last fall. True, the only real promise about taxes I made during the campaign was when I pledged that I would be opposed to a state wage tax or income tax. And, I'm keeping that promise. But just the same, though I didn't promise not to raise taxes — including the sales tax — anybody who was listening to me sure would have gotten the impression that I had strong hopes an increase could be avoided.

At this point, I begin to sound like a typical politician. Promise 'em anything to get elected, and all that sort of thing.

Reason Democrats

Because, like most other Pennsylvanians I didn't realize just how bad the financial condition of the state government really was, thanks to the statements of the previous Administration.

I had no way of fully knowing the carefully-hidden details of the fiscal tricker Pennsylvania had been living under.

When my Administration took office, we found out fast.

In the general fund — which pays for all of the services we've talked about so far in this discussion, we found that if the rate of spending being done by our predecessors was continued, Pennsylvania would have ended this fiscal year about $36 million in the red.

By a strict economy program we have saved $14 million, reducing our inherited deficit to $22 million.

Elsewhere in the state government we found the same story. The fish and game funds are nearly bankrupt.

The fund for highway building and repairs was an disastrous condition.

Another example of bad management came to light in the unemployment compensation fund. There we found that Pennsylvania owes the federal government $190 million, jeopardizing compensation payments to the unemployed and threatening our entire industrial development program.

On and on it went. Wherever we looked we found fiscal problems, waste and inefficiency.

Padded Payrolls

We've been searching out padded payrolls . . . and we've found plenty. So far nearly 2,500 needless positions on the state payroll have been abolished.

Sort of symbolic of the kind of thing we've found was the case of the employee who had been kept on the payroll by our predecessors. In three years he'd been paid $18,000 to collect delinquent taxes. During that time his collections amounted to a grand total of $9 and 66 cents.

Looking elsewhere, we found that the Department of Property and Supplies had been run almost as though it were an annex of the Democratic State Committee, with favors and special treatment available for political friends.

Juggling of the books . . . waste and inefficiency . . . padded payrolls . . . political favoritism — all of these things have been costing you, the taxpayers, a lot of money.

I wouldn't be telling you the truth if I pretended that every bit of this has now been stopped. A lot of it we haven't even found yet. Practices that have been built up over a period of years can't be completely stopped in a matter of weeks. But, we've made tremendous progress, and we're going to keep right on trying.

Sales Tax

The average Pennsylvania family will pay about $140 a year in sales tax including the increase which is necessary. Yet State Government services each year amount to over $330 for each family.

That's right, because corporation taxes and other tax sources make up the difference, the average Pennsylvania family pays $140 in sales tax but gets $330 in day-to-day services.

So, in a very real sense, so long as waste is continually cut out of State Government operations, you can look forward to getting your money's worth from what you pay in sales tax.

Let me make one final point. I say this to you, so long as I am Governor, not a single day will go by without every effort being made to see to it that you as a Pennsylvanian get your money's worth for every tax dollar you pay to the State Government.

East Stroudsburg vs. Stroudsburg Cost of Living Compared

Editor, The Daily Record:

I finally became sick of hearing people downgrade East Stroudsburg, claim it costs twice as much and more to live and own property here in comparison with Stroudsburg area and out of town.

What is worse, this was also my opinion until a few days ago when I decided to do some checking just to see exactly how great the difference was.

Was I surprised!

It costs an average of $1.44 per week more to own a $10,000 home in East Stroudsburg than it does to own the same home in Stroudsburg.

Itemizing this on a yearly basis below, I am using the new 1963 millage for East Stroudsburg and the 1962 millage of Stroudsburg for both the property and personal taxes, the latter is for housewife and husband assessed at $200 and combined. (The figures are based on county assessors' records.)

Stroudsburg
Water Rent 30.00 (basic)
Sewer Rent 21.00 (basic)
Garbage Removal 26.00
Property Taxes 252.00 (approx.)
Personal Taxes 45.60
Yearly Total 374.60

East Stroudsburg
Water Rent 22.00 (basic)

for extra auto gas, $30 (maybe more) for oil, maintenance, depreciation on tires and auto for the extra mileage, and $20.00 (approx.) rise in property fire insurance for owning beyond borough limits. That takes care of $154 of the $137 supposedly saved by living "out of town."

Consider also that as your children get in high school, become interested in sports and various activities, transportation expenses will rise again to say nothing of the inconvenience to the parents — taking them (when we would rather be watching TV and relaxing) and going after them (right in the middle of a good program). A second car will probably become a necessity and an added expense.

Last summer was awfully dry. Many outside dwellers were making daily trip to our local burlins to save water. This was an inconvenience as well as an added expense.

It costs about $6 every year if you have to have your cesspool cleaned, things can go wrong with well pumps, hourly wage earners may lose money if driving conditions in winter become hazardous, harder to get a doctor, takes longer to get fire aid if necessary, plus other inconveniences and expense that could add and rise when one lives "out-of-town."

I am sure these may be considered minor and worth the trouble to those who prefer country living but let us not fool ourselves into thinking it is cheaper than living in town when it actually isn't, taking everything into consideration.

Renting isn't cheaper than owning anywhere. We all can't be tenants and you can be sure when property expenses rise, so will your rent.

Observing rental ads in the paper I notice it is hard to find much under $75 a month and I am sure if you figure all expenses you will find that buying a house in a price range to suit your salary may well average what you spend for rents and utilities.

The advantage of owning is that some day, when the mortgage is paid in full, these expenses will be cut nearly in half which will be easier to cope with at retirement and age 65 than a $75 a rent will be.

I just hope this helps to clarify the true facts. East Stroudsburg property owners are actually as worse off than Stroudsburg, owners, out-of-towners, or anywhere else in the area — and maybe a lot better off than some. Don't get me wrong — I'm not a cheerful taxpayer.

I feel as everyone does — we are over-taxed in accordance with our salaries and there is no gradual climb, just great big giant jumps — up-up-up, which isn't fair to the average wage earner with a family to raise but this is true in most all living expenses today, not just taxes alone.

No one place of residence is actually any better off than another (no matter where you live). Taxes may be cheaper "there" than "here" but your other expenses "there" may be more than ours "here" so if you are looking to buy, take all the general living expenses adaptable to each area into consideration and I think you will find them all pretty equal in the end — East Stroudsburg included.

Taxes are here — there — everywhere to stay and about our only consolation at this point seems to be that at least all taxes are deductible on our tax returns.

I do wonder what future political aspirations Mr. Summers and some of his fellow board members have at this point. I would like to give credit to them for finally realizing there are probably more children in our schools who have parents that rent than there are who have parents as property owners, thus raising the personal tax millage equals taxes more.

I also realize they well know this also will bring in quite a bit more than taxing the property owners alone. However, $4 mills increase at one time — come now — would you re-elect them to office again?

Thanks For Snow Removal

Editor, The Daily Record:

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the road supervisors for the Chestnut Hill Township force of workers for snow removal on the township roads this last winter.

It was a superb job and tireless efforts and know-how were responsible for the loss of but one day of work for me due to clogged roads, and on that day it was impossible to keep the roads clear due to the wind.

I have had the opportunity to talk with many residents of this township and I know that I convey the sentiments of many.

I want to thank Mr. Claude Possinger and his crew for the superb job.

Seeks Backing For Pets

Editor, The Daily Record:

This letter is being written as an appeal to all friends of cats and dogs.

In light of the Pennsylvania Superior Court ruling that cats and dogs are not domestic animals and are not protected by law it is imperative that you write to Sen. Walter Morris, chairman of Committee on Law and Order, Senate of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Pa., urging that action be taken on Senate Bill 322 introduced by Sen. Fred B. Rooney of Bethlehem, Pa., which will classify dogs and cats as domestic animals.

It is hoped that all pet owners will write in order that our domestic animals will have the status and protection they deserve.

Farmers' Booklet Held Honored Spot

By Jeff Cox
Daily Record Reporter

ALMANACS, annual specimens of rural wit, now are usually oddities.

At one time, during the last century, the Farmer's Almanac or similar publications held an honored spot in the family household. The country at that time was largely agricultural, and the almanac was a farmer's helper.

It told him when to plant; how the weather would be when he was doing it; it told him good and bad days to fish and breed; the days when the stars would allow harvesting and the days when harvest would surely be a failure if reaped.

With the advent this century more sophisticated farming and the great migration to the cities, the almanac is little more than a curiosity, and the publications are taken tongue-in-cheek.

But in those days the almanac contained jokes and family fare, all sorts of recipes and hints for better farming and living.

In reading an old one now the jokes are stale and there isn't much use for a feature on clean and your butter churns these days.

One almanac that was published in the 1800's was the "Pennsylvania Almanac." This came out May 22, 1800. It was printed in German for use by the German farmers in Lancaster by Johann Bar's sons. On the cover it notes its 80th year of publication.

Peaceful Year

According to the almanac, Mars was the reigning planet for 1963. Mars is the god of war, but it

Pre-School Clinics Set For PM

CRESCO — Pre-school clinics for children entering kindergarten or first grade in the Pocono Mountain Joint Schools for the first time will be conducted this month.

Clinics will be held at the Coalingham Elementary Center, Tullyhanna, next Tuesday and Wednesday; at Tullyhanna Elementary Center, Pocono Pines, next Thursday; at Barrett Elementary Center, Cresco, May 14 and 15, and at Pocono Elementary Center, Tannersville, May 23 and 24.

To be eligible for kindergarten, the child's birthdate must fall between Feb. 1, 1958, and Jan. 31, 1959. For first grade eligibility, the child's birthdate must be between Feb. 1, 1957, and Jan. 31, 1958.

Parents who have not received a letter of appointment may do so by calling Mt. Pocono 839-7121.

Highways' Open House On May 28

PEN ARGYL — A. Victor Cesare, district five engineer, Pennsylvania Department of Highways, announced yesterday that his district would hold open house on May 28 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Highways Department building, Allentown.

Monroe County is included in District Five's area.

Cesare said, "The district will cooperate completely with the recent proclamation issued by Gov. Scranton. The open house program is not new to the district. We have held the same type event the past two years."

Gov. Scranton's proclamation established May 26 to June 1 as Pennsylvania Highway Week. He urged all Pennsylvanians to visit one of the open house programs.

Pennsylvania's celebration coincides with National Highway Week.

New Utility Officially Named

ALLENTOWN—Thomas B. Richards, Pennsylvania Power & Light Company's special assistant to the operating vice president, was named superintendent of the company's Sunbury power plant, succeeding the late William H. Koppenhaver. The announcement was announced yesterday by Mr. D. J. Connell, PP&L's operating vice president.

Richards is no stranger to the Sunbury area. When the huge plant went "on the line" in 1949, he received the call as plant superintendent. Twice during his original tenure as plant superintendent, this modern plant was increased in size. Units were added in 1951 and in 1953. With the two original units, the capacity of this station is currently 430,000 kilowatts, presently the largest on the PP&L system.

He will note 35 years of PP&L service this month, practically all of which has been in the power generating end of the business.

Shortway Section On Schedule

BARTONSVILLE — The section of the Keystone Shortway that is under the jurisdiction of Marcolino Construction Co. will be completed on time, according to Otto Johnson, superintendent of the job.

The Marcolino section runs approximately four miles north from Stroudsburg to a point 500 feet past the center of Bartonsville.

"We'll be done on time," Johnson said yesterday, "we are on our original schedule."

Johnson estimated that the road will be open for traffic about the middle of July.

"There was no contract completion date change," he said, "so with the number of working days left, we'll get done."

"You can say that I'm doing all I can do to complete the job on time," Johnson added. "I'm just the superintendent on the job."

"The people are still going to have to get off the road at Stroud," he said, "so traffic will still pass the road on Rt. 611 in that area."

Weather Outlook For 5 Days

Eastern Pennsylvania, southeastern New York and New Jersey—Temperatures are expected to average 2 to 7 degrees above normal. Mild over the weekend, except slightly cooler over the extreme north portion, with a warming trend setting in over the entire area toward the latter half of the period. Precipitation may total from two-tenths to six-tenths of an inch in northern and western portions and up to two-tenths of an inch in southern and eastern portions. Showers are expected Sunday or Monday and then toward the end of the period.

Middle Atlantic States—Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees above normal. Mild over the weekend and becoming warmer the first of the week. Scattered showers possible the first of the week.

Western Pennsylvania — Temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees above normal. Warmer with little day-to-day variation through the weekend but followed by marked day-to-day changes early next week. Precipitation will average near a half-inch as daily scattered showers.

ON DEAN'S LIST — Robert Beers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Beers, Kresgeville was recently named to the dean's list at the Pennsylvania State University Center at Wilkes-Barre. He is majoring in surveying in the field of civil engineering and had a perfect average of 4.00 for the term.

Physicians To Attend Seminar

BETHLEHEM — General practitioners from Monroe, Bucks, Carbon, Lehigh, and Northampton Counties will attend a pilot medical seminar at St. Luke's Hospital on Thursday.

The seminar is sponsored by Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and Penn State University.

The session is acceptable for three hours of graduate training by the American Academy of General Practice. This is the equivalent of credits received in a medical school seminar.

The topic for the seminar is advance in endocrinology. General practitioners interested in attending the seminar should contact Edward J. Connelley, district administrator, Pennsylvania State University Center, Allentown, or Dr. W. L. Estes at St. Luke's Hospital.

Timing Was Wrong But Price Is Right

They almost missed the last bus home but it was worth it.

Mrs. Charles Smith president of the Hamilton Twp. Parent Teachers Assn. and Mrs. George Metzger, also of the Hamilton Square Area had planned a big day in New York, including a visit to the "Price is Right."

When they got to the studio, they found out their tickets were for the night's taping at 7:45. With their train leaving at 8, things looked bleak, but they checked the bus terminal and found a bus leaving at 10:15 getting home at 1:30 in the morning.

In a telephone call home they got permission from baby sitters and husbands to stay over. They saw the pre-taping of "The Tonight Show" and stayed on for "The Price is Right." After the show, tryouts for next week's program were held. Mrs. Smith was one of those chosen in the preliminary try-outs.

The clock and the try-outs both continued until it seemed as if they might miss the bus, too, but Mrs. Smith was one of the three chosen for the show next week, and they made it to the bus on time.

She will go to New York on Thursday to tape the show which will be telecast on Friday night, and Mrs. Metzger is alerting all members of the Hamilton PTA to watch their president in action.

Local Deanery Is Active

The Monroe County Deanery of Catholic Women was represented by 21 at the Diocesan Council meeting in Scranton, attended by 600 women. Mrs. Michael Chaplin was elected a director at large and Mrs. Fern Brown was elected DCCW president, succeeding Mrs. Thomas Burke.

The deanery will meet at the new affiliate church, Sacred Heart in Greeley this Sunday. The program will feature Mrs. Likewise, Mrs. Caulfield and Mrs. Bradley, led by Mrs. Mary Jean West, and assisted by the newly-formed Junior Catholic Daughters from Our Lady of Victory Church in Tannersville.

Streetlights For Barrett Continues As Club Goal

Barrett — At the May meeting of the Barrett Community Club, held this week at Hillside Lodge, Canadensis, new officers were installed and new members were introduced.

Mrs. Harold Kreck, president; Mrs. Robert Sengle, vice-president; Mrs. James Manhart, treasurer; and Mrs. Leon Meyung, secretary, were installed by the president of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Robert Payne.

In her installation ceremony, Mrs. Payne said that a membership made up of "strong backbones" was needed to surge ahead. She presented each candidate for office with an outline of their duties and congratulated them for their acceptance of leadership. "The concerns of the community, the nation and the world are the concerns of a Federated Club President," she said.

Mrs. Payne gave a brief talk on "What Federation Means." She related the following facts to members—Federated Clubs are found in 53 countries around the world. There are 12,000,000 women around the world who belong to Federated Clubs, and there are 16,000 Federated Clubs throughout the world.

"Federated Women's Clubs have accomplished enactment of the 8-hour work day; workmen's compensation act; the first Child Labor Law; the Food and Drug Act; the improvement of political and social status of women; improvement of educational standards; establishment of the Children's Bureau and conservation of natural resources, to name a few," she said.

New members introduced and welcomed by the president were Mrs. James Camfield, Mrs. Dwight A. Shaw, Mrs. James Barr, Mrs. Ernest LaBar and Mrs. Sherwood Coffman.

To Work for Streetlights

Mrs. Leon Meyung, outgoing president, read a letter from Genevieve Blatt, State Secretary of Internal Affairs, advising the members on the ways in which a municipality may obtain street lights and sidewalks. The Club voted to further the development of this project, and a committee is being appointed to do research. It was noted that there have been at least five pedestrian highway fatalities in Barrett Township during the past five years.

Reporting for the Club's service during the preceding year, Mrs. Meyung noted that in October of 1962, after 8 years of maintaining the Barrett Pre-School Center, the Club presented all of its physical properties and a large-faced clock to the newly formed kindergarten of the Pocono Mountains Jointure. Two homes for the Monroe County Federation all Home Tour were provided by the club, with 101 visitors touring the two homes.

Service Record

Two club members and their husbands were instrumental in securing another doctor for Barrett Township. Its members donated and wrapped 27 Christmas gifts for children of the Allentown State Hospital, in connection with the Monroe County Mental Health Association. Donations were made to the Salvation Army for a needy family in rural Stroudsburg, and a rehabilitation fund was raised for a Barrett family who lost their home by fire this past winter.

The Medical Self-Help Classes at the General Hospital were completed by two members of the club, who are now qualified as instructors for Civil Defense. The Barrett Girl Scouts have been sponsored by the club for the past nine years, and contributions have been made this year to the Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A., General Hospital Expansion Fund and the Community Chest, as well as Meals for Millions, Radio Free Europe and CARE.

Members volunteered their services for the Babo Oral Polio Sundays at the Barrett Elementary Center on May 5, June 2 and June 9, and they were asked to assist the American Legion Auxiliary with its clothing drive in May for the depressed areas of the southern mountains.

Following her installation as president, Mrs. Kreck honored Mrs. Meyung, the outgoing president, on behalf of the membership, by presenting Mrs. Meyung with a past-president's pin and a hearty vote of thanks for her year of leadership.

In her acceptance message, Mrs. Kreck said she "accredited the achievements during the past 10 years of the club's service to the 'combined efforts of the members', and urged them to continue to 'look to the future.'"

May Fellowship Sentiments To Be Tested for Reality, Churchwomen Warned

"I suspect the reality of our declaration of Christian Fellowship as white women will be sharply tested," Miss Margaret Kuhn warned the 132 women attending the May Fellowship luncheon of the Monroe County Council of United Church Women at the Pocono Manor yesterday.

Miss Kuhn, a member of the Department of Social Welfare of the National Council of Churches and chairman of the Christian Social Relations Committee of the United Church Women, is recognized nationally as an authority on social problems.

"In the rising tide of expectation of the non-white people of the world the leadership has passed from us who have been working at a snail's pace," she said.

As white suburbs grow and more and more Negroes move into the city, a national policy of apartheid is growing as strongly as in South Africa, she warned. "We must learn to examine established practices in terms of new opportunity," she urged. "We must get out of our way to find continuous association with people who are different than we are and cultivate a sensitivity toward the agony of the struggle of other people."

She announced that Mrs. Coker, representing the administration; Mrs. George Bush representing world relations; Mrs. Fred Davis, for world missions and Mrs. Edward Steinhauer for social relations would be voting delegates at the state convention in Selinsgrove in June. Mrs. Leister will be a member of the panel at the convention which is open to all church women.

Mrs. John A. Leflar and Mrs. Carl Diefenbach, co-chairmen of the Fellowship program, presided at the service held in the auditorium.

Special music was presented by the Choral Ensemble of the Pocono Mountain High School under the direction of R. Leand Wesner, Jr.

Mrs. Ide to Be Greeted By Republicans

The Monroe County Council of Republican Women is inviting members of all neighboring Republican clubs to meet Mrs. Joseph Ide of Easton on Wednesday at 2:30 in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Mrs. Ide is the director of the Republican women of Monroe County. In the state council, she is on the board of directors, a member of the legislative committee and program chairman for 1963 and 64.

In addition to her political activities, Mrs. Ide is legislative chairman of the Easton Woman's Club, president of the Easton Council of Republican Women, past president of the Easton branch of the American Association of University Women, and active in the Easton YWCA.

She will talk about the present program in Harrisburg as she sees it.

May Dinner Plans Made By Altar, Rosary

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

One of the catastrophic experiences of my childhood was the time when I wound a long rope swing up as tight as it would go and then sat on it while it unwound, faster and faster and forever. I don't think I've ever been so seasick or been so confused about which was earth and which was sky.

The last two days have created much the same effect. I'm not seasick yet but which is up and which is down right now is a problem. I wound the whole shebang up on Thursday by starting the day at dawn in order to have the work out of the way before the lecture at the college.

The number of people interested in a very specialized field of scholarly historical research not only startled the speaker but seems to have startled themselves. Or maybe, as one professor put it who had vainly tried to interest the townspeople in other productions at the college, there are a lot of people who are tired of home cooking.

At any rate it was a stimulating experience, and you could find practically everything there, including the House Wrens just back from Spain. Visiting their daughter, they had been out of touch with world events, and eagerly read a copy of "The Stars and Stripes" which arrived, including the information, if you please, that Mrs. Margaret Price of Stroudsburg (sic) had been named Mrs. Pennsylvania.

The women, at least, were still eating out on Friday noon when there was an impressive crowd out for the May Fellowship luncheon of churchwomen at Pocono Manor.

One of the guests was Mrs. Charles Wolters who is leaving today to speak and demonstrate sacred dance at a national convention. She was particularly inspired by the music of the Pocono Mountain High School choral group, "enthusiastic enough to 'move my hair' is the way she said as a dancer put it.

Well, I was enthusiastic, too, but now I'm still spinning from being educated, inspired, challenged, excited about Mrs. Smith getting on television next week, fascinated by the wedding, trying to get it all down somehow and eventually claw my way clear of the typewriter. I want off.

The Mountain Laurel Protectors Assembly of the Dames of Malta, including protectors from Easton, Bangor, Tatamy, Scranton and Stroudsburg, will meet on Monday in the Malta Temple. A covered dish luncheon at noon will be followed by a business meeting at 1:45. St. John's Sisterhood will meet Monday night at 8 with nomination and election of deputy.

Mrs. Wolbers Speaker At Nat'l Convention

Mrs. Charles Wolters of 111 South Green St., East Stroudsburg, is leaving today for Minneapolis, Minn., where she will address the national convention of the American Assn. for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

She will present a lecture-demonstration on the sacred dance before the dance section on Monday afternoon. President of the Sacred Dance Guild and a nationally known dance educator, Mrs. Wolters will summarize contemporary developments in religious dance here and abroad and preview the results of a research project she is completing.

Assisting her in demonstrating the work of soloists and dance choirs in services of worship will be a former pupil, Judith Robinson, who has trained a group of Carleton College students for the presentation. Mrs. Wolters will present a solo, "Gestures of Prayer," and the Carleton group will present "The Beatitudes," choreographed by James Elberg.

Taking advantage of their president's presence, the members of the Sacred Dance Guild at the Lutheran House of Prayer in Minneapolis have arranged a dinner in her honor on Sunday and will have a three-hour workshop with choir directors from all over Minnesota.

Silent World In Films

Tonight at 8:15 "The Silent World," an underwater expedition filmed in color, will be presented by World Films in the College Auditorium. Led by the scientist, Captain Jacques-Yves Cousteau, the exploration team has combined beautiful colored vistas, techniques of research, and everyday experiences.

An accompanying short, "Songs of the Aventure" will present Phyllis Curtin singing songs of the French villages and countryside.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

I never did get into a different dress for the Hadassah luncheon Wednesday at Heddy's. When I left for work in the morning, my mind had everything planned in neat and orderly fashion that allowed me at least 45 minutes to slip home and into my Spring suit in time to be ready at 12:15. But at 48 years of age I should know that one cannot work with time as though it were moldable plastic. It isn't... it's liquid and quicksilver, and before you know it is going it has disappeared.

The major factor in throwing me off schedule was my hair... if you can really call it hair—I sometimes wonder! The evening before as I left the Hotel Show I was caught in a down pour that left my locks limp, kinky and as unattractive as faded floss. In my heart I tried to tell myself they'd be all right the next day if I wound them around curlers... but it wasn't so. So I rushed into our Beauty Salon and asked Norma to please do something about them... anything. Even chop them off and shave my scalp if need be!

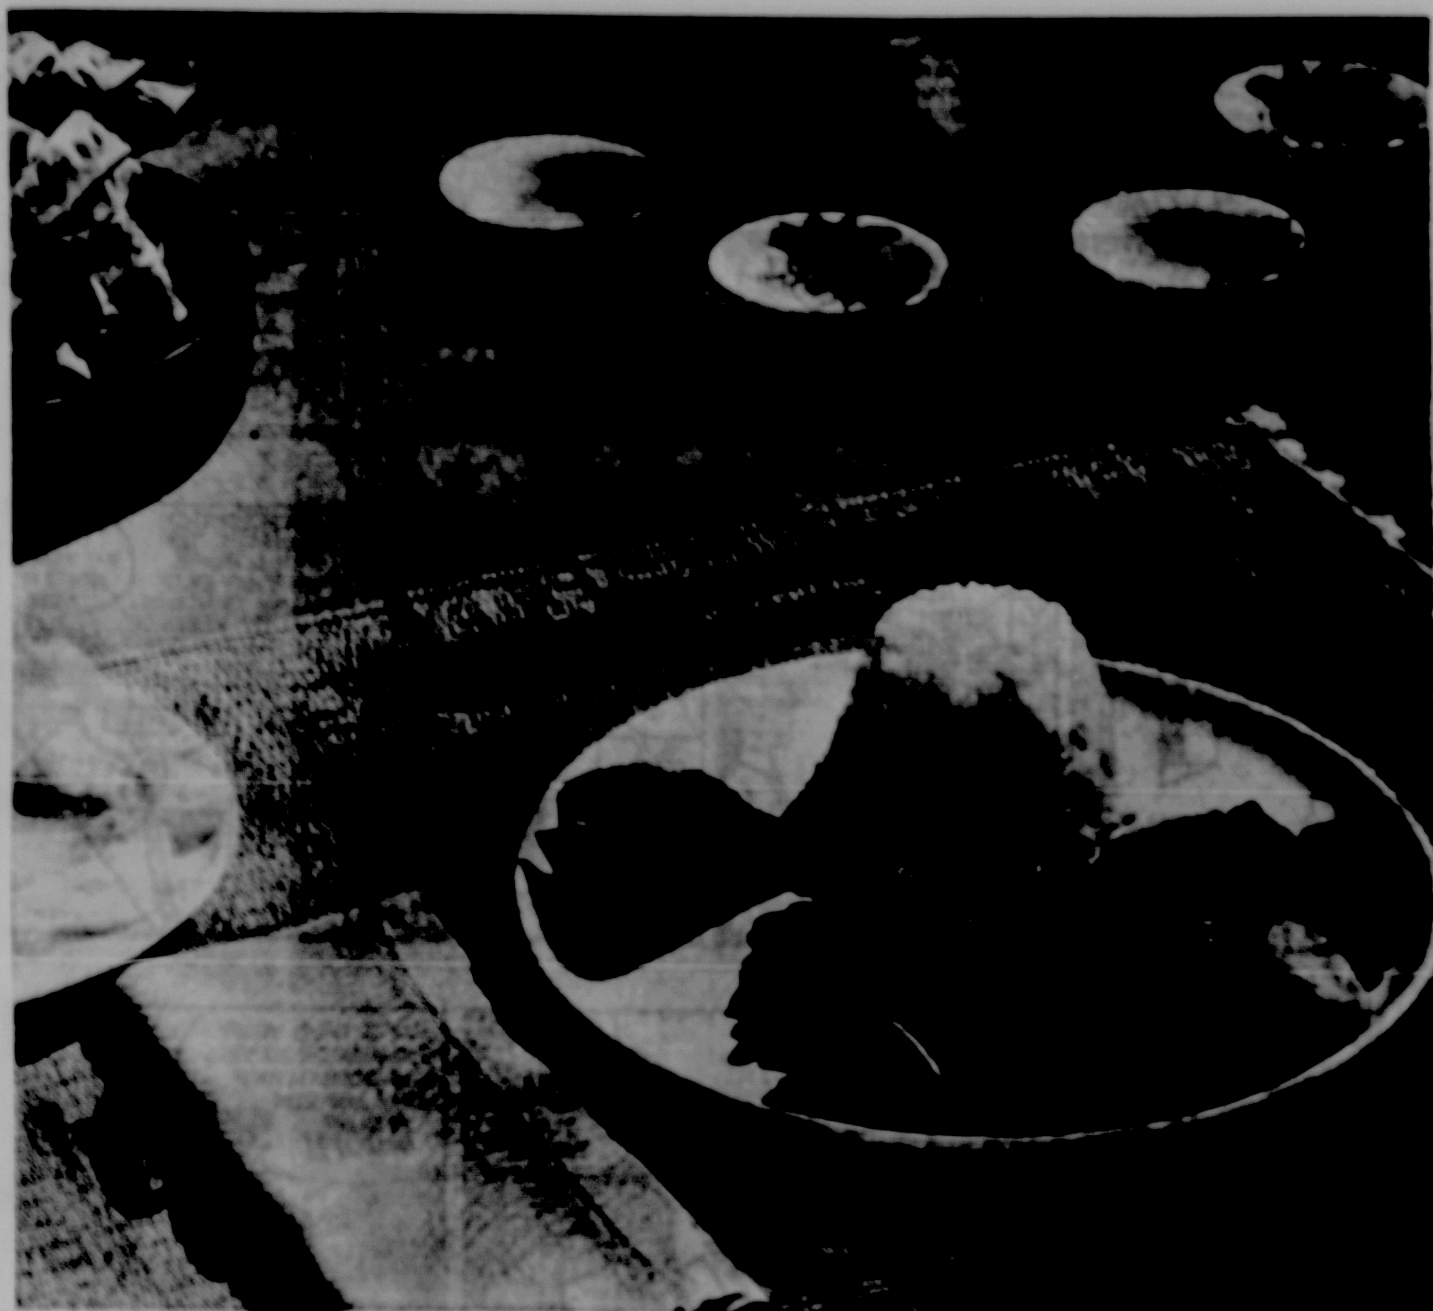

And do you know, she worked a minor miracle! Armed with a can of spray, a brush, a comb, and a handful of clips, she connived my hair into a French twist that really earned me a generous measure of compliments. The truth is, no one can do with your hair what a professional hairdresser can accomplish in just a few moments. And there's no better time than NOW to make your appointment for a re-styling for the busy summer months ahead.

Saddest commentary I've heard yet on a woman: "She's so unpleasant even her own tea kettle won't whistle at her"... For no reason at all this reminds me that some men take delight in shopping the Cosmetic department for their ladies. But I often suspect they are quite as intrigued with the mechanics of a perfume atomizer as they are with the fragrance it encases.

Have you ever watched a man select perfume? He doesn't smell it. He turns the container around in his hands; reads any material there is to read; turns it over, looks at the bottom, tries to remove the top, and then jiggles it a bit, as though he were wondering whether or not it is explosive. When permitted to do so, he'll press the spray button, with the same obvious delight he would press his foot down upon the gas or the brake if he were investing in a new car. Someday I mean to take a poll of Cosmetic buyers and see whether or not I'm correct, but in the meantime I'm simply going to wager that nine times out of ten a man will buy a spray rather than any other type of fragrance. After all, a spray is much more entertaining than an ordinary bottle!

A telephone call from a very gracious lady, Mrs. Edith Devitt, tells me that she and her husband are back in this area and will probably be here for some time. The Devitts have long been in missionary work in Africa and some years ago we had a most interesting exhibit of their trophies in our Wyckoff window. We are sorry to hear that Rev. Devitt has been ill, but it's pleasant to have them back!

Our Traveling Food Editor Brings Home Foreign Recipes From The Travel Show

By Linda Fisher
Daily Record Food Editor

I didn't get any recipes from Grace Kelly at the Philadelphia Travel and Vacation Show, but I can tell you she is as lovely as her photographs and every inch a princess. The first day she was wearing a brilliant red suit with navy blue straw hat and the second day she was a vision in pink. Prince Rainier looked older than his photographs, but he is still a handsome man who stayed in the background as the spotlight shone on his wife.

Although it was a thrill to see the Prince and Princess, the ten days were memorable because of the people with whom I worked. First of all there was my other half, Marit Jacobson, of Bushkill, who had me laughing so hard the whole time that I lost five pounds — I've never had better exercise for my tummy! Next to us in our Bushkill Falls booth were Jean and Sam Greger who married the Pocono Honeymoon Resort booth. Jean is a sister of Mae Anne who owns and manages Paradise Valley Lodge with her husband, Paul.

The only food thing about the whole show was the eating facilities; all that was open were snack stands. The show started on Friday, and by Sunday night Marit and I couldn't look at another sandwich or hot dog. A native Philadelphian in a neighboring booth recommended an Italian restaurant to us, and all day we waited until it was slow enough to leave. I was quite surprised to run into Bonnie Arnold Kramer whose husband, Bill, was working at the Hotel Old Booth. We invited her to go along with us, and the three of us went by taxi to a very quiet restaurant, brimming with atmosphere. We were served Veal Parmesan, Marit's favorite; I hope she will enjoy this recipe as much:

Tonit's Veal Parmesan

Trim fat from 8 loin or rib-veal chops and remove bones. Curl the tail of each chop around center pieces and secure with toothpick. Mix together:

- 1 1/2 cups toasted bread crumbs
- 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika

Roll chops in flour seasoned with salt and pepper, then in two slightly beaten eggs, and lastly in bread crumb mixture. Place in refrigerator while making sauce.

SAUCE:

- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 7 cloves garlic, crushed
- 2 cups tomato puree

2 cups canned Italian plum tomatoes

- 1 tablespoon basil
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Pinch crushed dried red Mexican pepper

Heat olive oil in skillet and saute garlic until golden. Add remaining ingredients and simmer covered for 15 minutes.

Heat breaded chops in 1/2 cup olive oil and brown well on both sides. Drain on paper toweling and remove toothpicks. Arrange in a 2 quart casserole. Cover chops with 1/2 cup of the sauce, and cover chops with 1 1/2 pounds Mozzarella cheese, sliced. Bake in a 350 oven for 15 minutes until cheese melts and chops are fork tender. Serve with remaining sauce, heated, over chops.

The mountains made friends with the seashore, for our partners across the aisle were from Cape May County, New Jersey. In the Cape May booth were Stewart and Betty Gray, owners of Colonial Lodge in Stone Harbor, N. J. At show time while the visitors enjoyed the Tahitian dancers and the Voodoo rites of the Haitian group, the six of us joined Walt Buehler, manager of Congress Hall at Cape May, N. J. Walt's booth was arranged with comfortable lounge chairs, and he had a model of his hotel which he had made himself. But more interesting than the scale model was the table on which it was displayed.

Is There Such A Thing As Problem-Free Luck?

By Roberta Fleming Roach

When you're thoroughly convinced that everyone around you has had more smiles from bountiful Lady Luck than you have, how often do you remind yourself that you are only outer pictures and never inner views?

Such a reminder came to us this week when a woman arrived at our desk to tell us for two hours about the problems that held her back from the things she wanted from life.

Needs A Break

"I know I could handle a job," she said, "if my problems would stop long enough to let me get a decent start on the right course for me."

"But I never have that luck," she went on, with a trace of bitterness, "and when I see the women who do I'm envious of the problem-free luck that let them get their start."

"How do you know they have problem-free luck?" we asked immediately, "when all you get is an outer view and never an inner one?"

We often ask that question these days as we go about our work talking to people about their jobs and occasionally seeing their hearts and the inside story that no one sees beneath the outer view.

Seems Lucky

For example, one woman whose luck looks good has a glamorous fashion job and the outer picture that people see is money, high style and fun.

But the inner view that she keeps to herself is an aching, unhealed hurt that compels her to work at a driving pace because of the loss of a son. She needs her job to keep her sane and she needs money for bills that piled up financially during the years he was ill.

Another woman whose a vivid job is something she needs desperately hides the constant disappointments her problem-filled marriage brings.

(She sticks with the marriage and makes it work because of the children involved and because she is the mainstay that makes a life for them.)

Necessary Job

But the job that people envy so much means money that she needs as well as the fulfillment that helps make up for her disappointing marriage.

These women are two out of hundreds we've seen from the daily view of the outer exposure they show to the world and the inner view in their hearts.

Successful Career Woman Hides Sadness Of Her Marriage

Don't Wait Around

They know, as all of us ought to know, that problems don't stop while you wait. And they know that waiting lines are dead ends when you stand and wait too long.

So put your own problems in their place and run from that waiting line! Follow, instead, the sign that says "Go" to the things that you want from life!

Winter In Germany

Delaware Water Gap, Mrs. Otto Kirschner of Glenwood Ave., returned from a six-month stay abroad by boat from Germany last Thursday. The winter was very severe in the section of West Germany where she stayed, she reports. The trip home also had its hazards with two days of hurricanes blowing the ship, which later ran into heavy fog. She was met at the pier by her son, Peter.

Secretaries On Vacation Switch To City Office Jobs

By Joan Sprink Wilson
AP Newsfeatures Writer

New York (AP) A Midwestern legal secretary, Charlene Masters, wanted to try the life of a White Collar girl in the big city but was reluctant to sacrifice her good job for the experience.

A real estate secretary in the South, Betty Carson wanted to step and view the New Broadway plays, but lacked the money to finance a stay in New York.

Both women, and more than 200 other secretaries, will work all or some of their vacations this summer in New York offices as a part of a secretary-vacation plan.

Drawn by correspondence, the secretaries have agreed to work a minimum of a week but may remain throughout the summer, if they have that much time away from their jobs at home.

That Charlene will utilize her entire two weeks with pay serving as a secretary for a fashion magazine, Betty has arranged to spend only a part of her three weeks in an insurance office. With her money earned, she will shop and go to shows on the rest of her vacation time.

"There is a tremendous need for vacation replacement secretaries here in the summer," explains William Glavin who originated the plan four years ago as an outgrowth of his temporary employment service.

Okilly, school teachers rather than secretaries inspired it. So many wrote Glavin looking for brief employment while visiting here, that he pondered whether secretaries might also be interested in switching to New York offices on their vacations. Response to a few ads in newspapers across the country was enthusiastic.

Unlike other employment situations, the secretary must already have a job before she can get another.

"Most of the risk in hiring right unseen is eliminated when the secretary is working. We have high standards. The girls must have currently operative skills."

Glavin himself hires the women, thus guaranteeing their jobs before they leave home. He services them out to clients who pay him in the same way that an account firm distributes their men to various businesses to work temporarily.

The salaries are approximately equal to or possibly higher than their regular pay checks, Glavin says. Women who hold jobs in small towns or economically depressed areas, for example, may take home more pay in New York, while those from metropolitan areas may earn about the same rate as at home.

Although the secretary-vacation plan advises by mail about suitable women's residence hotels and rates, the secretaries are expected to pay their own living expenses and transportation to New York.

The plan has been so successful that Glavin is considering working out similar arrangements for secretaries who want to spend their vacations in business offices located in possibly Chicago, Atlanta and Washington, D.C.

the MOTHER who couldn't take it

Once there was a mother who had a normal, healthy boy. And he liked to do the things that normal, healthy boys like to do. But, for a long while, Mother couldn't take it. She kept saying, "DON'T Bobby—you'll hurt yourself!"

Then one day, as she passed the playground, she marveled at a bold youngster's feats on the horizontal ladder. And, coming closer, she discovered it was Bobby!

Now she has more confidence in her son . . . and better understands his confidence in himself.

Sound religious training begins with confidence and understanding. In churches of our community youthful eagerness is directed toward right motives, high ideals, clean activities. Moral and spiritual conviction begin to supersede daring and pride as incentives for action.

Your child already has faith in himself. Through the Church's guidance and your example this rudimentary faith can be enriched and tempered by faith in God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are:

(1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Stroud Union Wins Sixth Straight, 3-2

STROUDSBURG — Stroud Union High School's Mountaineers scored their sixth straight triumph of the season without a setback as they hit the halfway mark of the 1963 campaign with a 3-2 win over visiting Lehigh Valley here yesterday. Dave Pierson hurled a nifty two-hitter to gain the victory.

The triumph also was the second straight in Lehigh Valley League competition.

Knights Score Easy 11-1 Win

HELLETTOWN — The Green Knights of Pen Argyl romped to an easy 11-1 victory here yesterday over Hellestown behind the steady three-hit pitching of John M-Masters.

The Knights led all the way from the very beginning, picking up a run in the first inning and breaking through for five more in the third. Pen Argyl added two more in the fourth to zoom ahead by an 8-0 count before Hellestown finally broke the ice for their lone tally in the bottom of the sixth.

Nicklaus Is Golf Leader By 5 Strokes

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—National Open champion Jack Nicklaus continued his wrecking job in the $60,000 Tournament of Champions Friday, clubbing out a 4-under-par 68. That stretched his lead after 36 holes to five strokes over Arnold Palmer.

Once again playing the par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course as if he owned it, 25-year-old Jack totted the premiere in 34-34. His 68 obviously was not as sensational as his tournament record-breaking 64 Thursday but it gave him a fat cushion going into the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday. His total score was 132.

Palmer had 137, and two strokes back was Bill Casper Jr., with 70-69-129.

"I feel I'm playing good enough to win but I haven't had any luck at all with my putting," Palmer said.

Nicklaus, who also owns the Masters title and is playing in this desert attraction the first day on the first side, and coming home he had three birdies and a bogey.

Palmer had a 35-36-71.

With Nicklaus out front and flying, and 12 strokes under par for the 36 holes, Palmer waged a second place war, first with Bill Collins and then with Casper, another former National Open champion.

Collins, who was three strokes behind Nicklaus and one shy of Palmer setting out, was on even terms with Arnie and even led him by one stroke after seven holes. But then he ran into a horrible fate. He bogied the eighth and after driving out of bounds on the ninth and landing in the water, Collins took a triple bogey 7 for a 38.

He finished with a 75 and a total of 142.

Alone at 140 was Jerry Barber with a 69, and tied at 141 were Tony Lemna, 69; Bob Goody, 68; Johnny Pott, 71 and Jack Cupit 70.

South Africa's Gary Player, along with Australia's Bruce Crampton and Billy Maxwell each had their second straight 73. With Doug Ford at 73, they all tied at 146.

Three-time winner Gene Littler took a 74 for 147.

after Tom Moreken fanned, pitcher Dave Pierson brought Kresge home with a three-base smash.

Gains Lead

Lehigh Valley came up with a pair of runs in the top of the sixth, however, to gain a 2-1 lead. Joe Armbruster led off with a grounder through the box and advanced to second when Glenn Bashing hit him with the throw to first. Pierson then failed to get Armbruster on Denny Yenser's grounder back to the box, putting runners on first and third.

A squeeze play by Kerry Bowman brought home the first Lehigh Valley run on a close play at the plate, and when another squeeze was attempted, Yenser galloped home on a wild peg by Moreken after the runner had been trapped off third.

But the Mounties won the game in the bottom of the sixth when Freddy Frantz singled to left and stole second, Ed Nevil singled to score Frantz, and tie the count, and after Nevil stole second Mike Thurston smacked a safety to bring home what proved the winning run.

U.S. Athletes Grab Four More Medals

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—American athletes snapped up four track and field gold medals, three with record performances, Friday but the U.S. drive to top the 100-medal mark was postponed a day by two Canadians at the Pan-American Games.

Heading into the final events, the United States had a total of 30 gold medals. The Yankee total for the Games, which end Sunday, is certain to fall below the record 120 bagged at the third Games in Chicago in 1959.

Alex Oakley of Canada grabbed the gold medal in the 20,000-meter walk, and husky Nancy McCredie, 18-year-old schoolgirl from north of the border completed a weight double with a discus throw of 164 feet, 7 1/2 inches, to deny the American push.

Other Four

The United States collected the other four track medals on the card.

The American water polo team grabbed the silver medal with a 7-4 defeat of Canada. Brazil had clinched the gold.

Blaine Lindgren, a deputy sheriff in Salt Lake City, beat Willie May of Chicago off the marks in the 110-meter and held him off in the record time of 13.8 seconds. For the first U.S. track medal Friday.

Olympic champion Ralph Boston of Laurel, Miss., then grabbed the broad jump with a record 26 feet, 7 1/4 inches, with Darrell Horn of San Antonio, Tex., second, 4 inches back.

Defending champion Al Hall of Greenfield, Mass., repeated in the hammer throw with a toss of 205 feet, 10 inches, that broke his old mark of 195-11.

Eleanor Montgomery, a 16-year-old American schoolgirl from Cleveland, took the women's high jump at 5 feet, 6 inches.

Wins Shot Put

Miss McCredie, a 175-pounder, earlier won the women's shot put.

The track and field events were staged before a sparse crowd of 2,500 in a stadium built to seat 70,000. Track winds up Saturday with only the equestrian event and the closing ceremonies on Sunday. At this point in the track proceedings, the United States has won 11 of 17 events for men and four of eight for women. Canada, which never before won a track gold medal, has two men's and three women's firsts, and a total of 10 for the Games, second to the United States.

Candy Spots Favored

Unbeaten Colts Set For Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Candy Spots and No Robbery, two colts who have never lost a race, plus another pair who sport unblemished records this season, head the field for the 86th Kentucky Derby Saturday.

It could be one of the greatest races since Aratides won Derby No. 1 in 1875 and earned $2,500. Rex C. Ellsworth's Candy Spots, the 6-5 favorite for the grueling 1 1/4-mile race at Churchill Downs, has won 6-for-6, and could become the second straight California colt to capture America's blue ribbon classic. Decidedly won in record time a year ago.

Five Straight

The other unbeaten colt is No Robbery, a speedy late comer who has won five straight for the Green Tree Stable of John Hay Whitney and his sister, Mrs. Charles S. Payson.

Never Bend, last year's champion 2-year-old from Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable, and John W. Galbreath's Castaway are both 3-for-3 this season. Never Bend is second choice at 5-2, with No Robbery next at 3-1 and Chateaugay 15-1.

A field of nine, smallest in six years, is scheduled to go postward before about 100,000 fans at 4:30 p.m., EST, Saturday for the $125,000-added event. If all go, the pot will gross $151,400, with $108,900 for the winner.

The Derby will be televised and broadcast nationally with television from 4:35 p.m., EST, and radio from 4:15-4:45 p.m. The weatherman promised partly cloudy skies with the temperature around 78 degrees.

Varsity 'S' Sets School Banquet

STROUDSBURG — The Varsity "S" will hold its 13th annual banquet for Stroud Union lettermen in the Stroud Union High School cafeteria Saturday, May 25, at 6:30 p.m. John Wilson, former YMCA secretary here, will be the guest speaker.

The affair will be open to the general public. Tickets may be purchased at Fetherman's Paint Store or Lin's Sport Shop.

The committee on arrangements urged all members to pick up their tickets as soon as possible.

Title Fight Off

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The heavyweight title fight between champion Sonny Liston and Floyd Patterson, scheduled to be held in Las Vegas June 27, has been postponed. The Associated Press was reliably informed Friday night.

Cavaliers Bow To Nazareth, 6 To 1

EAST STROUDSBURG — The Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg suffered their fourth loss of the campaign here yesterday when visiting Nazareth gained a 6-1 win at the Eastburg playground in a Lehigh-Northampton League clash.

The loss followed Eastburg's first win of the campaign only the day before. The Cavalier record now stands at 4-1-1.

Nazareth took the lead in the second inning with a three-run homer led with a single and Bill Reese smacked a two-bagger, putting runners on second and third, with none away. Jimmy Steele hit Bauman to third. Both runners then executed a perfect double steal with Bauman scoring the first run of the game.

Werner Triples

Jack Deichman, who had reached base on a fielder's choice play, later scored on a single by Joe Stockdas. A triple by Don Werner brought home the third tally of the frame.

Bangor Trimmed By Wilson, 7-6

WILSON BORO — Bangor High School's Slayers yesterday went down to their third defeat of the season as Wilson Boro's Warriors overcame a 6-0 deficit to register a 7-6 win.

Al Link and Billy Cobb were the big bombs in the Wilson attack as both lads socked homers and drove in six runs apiece.

The Slayers had grabbed a four-run bulge in the second inning and added another pair in the fourth to build up a 6-0 cushion. But Wilson suddenly erupted with sudden explosiveness in the fourth and fifth frames, pushing across three markers in each inning to knot the count at 6-6.

Wilson then knocked over the final winning run of the game in the sixth to gain the Lehigh-Northampton League verdict.

Snack Doubles

Pete Speer and Parsons delivered the only extra-base blows for the Slayers — both doubles. Both boys also recorded a stolen base in the losing column.

Wilson's Dave Seibler went the distance for the winning Warriors while Bangor used three hurlers.

Score by innings: 000 000 6-0

College Golf Team Gains 13 1/2-4 1/2 Win

STROUDSBURG — Coach Mort Hochheiser's East Stroudsburg State College golfers scored a lopsided 13 1/2-4 1/2 win over visiting Wilkes College yesterday at Glen Brook Country Club.

Roger Stern and John Cottingham remained undefeated for the season in pacing the ESSC victory over the same team which earlier this year had extended the Warriors to an overtime battle before bowing to the local lads.

Stern, Cottingham and Dick Kieh each recorded 3-0 blankings over their opponents in match play. Warren Landis also won, 2-1, and Jay Barniak was a winner by 2 1/2-1. Jim Fitzsimmons was the only ESSC loser.

All six Warrior golfers scored birdies during the match.

The medal scores were Stern 75, Landis 77, Fitzsimmons 87, Kieh 84, Barniak 83, and Cottingham 84.

Dr. Maxwell Is WGCC President

DELAWARE WATER GAP — Dr. Paul Maxwell will serve as president of the Water Gap Country Club this year. Howard W. Knickman is vice president and treasurer, and Alex Bensinger, secretary.

Directors elected are Herbert Crane, Harold Crousdale, William F. Flynn, Dr. Maxwell, Edwin Oettel, and Fred J. Swenson Jr. Knickman also announced planned improvements for the club this year, one of which will be blacktopping the entrance road and parking area.

Plans for remodeling the locker room also are in process.

Bowling Playoff

MOUNTAIN HOME — The Barrett Mountain Bowling League will hold its end-of-season playoff next Wednesday between Hochline Mobil, first-half winners, and Gearhart Garage, second-half winners.

Monroe Child Adoptions Down

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG — A total of 22 child adoptions were completed in Monroe County during 1962, a just completed detailed report of the State Department of Public Welfare indicated yesterday.

Statistics maintained by the department show that the 22 adoptions were down from the 28 reported during the preceding year.

Of the total adoptions in the county, 15 were children listed as being born in wedlock and seven as born out-of-wedlock.

As to birthplace of the children adopted by Monroe counties, 14 were born in Monroe County, four were listed as born outside the county and four of the adopted children were born outside of Pennsylvania.

Adoptions were most numerous in the five-to-ten years group of which there were 11 adoptions. Two-to-five years was next in popularity with seven adoptions, followed by three in the ten-years-and-over group and one in the one-to-two years group.

Relative Adopt
 Relatives adopted four of the children, 16 were adopted by an individual other than a relative and two were adopted by an agency.

Of the 22 adoption decrees issued in the county, department records show 21 were by consent and one by abandonment found at the adoption hearing.

The department pointed out that court approval must be granted in Pennsylvania before an adoption becomes final—and that children must remain in the foster home at least six months before a final adoption decree is issued.

HERE is a compact little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to give you four messages. Check the letters in your first column. If the one left of letters is 8 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 3. The result is your key number. Next at the upper left hand corner of the message and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message in letters under the checked key numbers. A great way to receive your daily message.

(IF SO, MAYBE YOU'RE NOT AS GOOD AT HANDLING MONEY AS YOU COULD BE?)

Nobody is born with the knack of handling money well. It's a skill that's acquired. There is one place that can help shrink your month and stretch your money by showing you how to improve family budgeting and how to trim off waste. That place is a Full Service commercial bank.

financial professional who can do a great deal for your financial present and financial future. And, no other institution can offer all the services a Full Service commercial bank can offer—according to law. It's a good idea to get acquainted with a Full Service banker as soon as possible.

What Is A Full Service Commercial Bank?

How Does This Keep You From Running Out Of Month?

A Full Service commercial bank is a kind of "financial department store," able and willing to help you in all kinds of financial matters. It offers both checking and savings accounts. It makes home loans, business loans, auto loan, and loans for practically any purpose you can name. It provides safe deposit boxes, trust facilities, international banking, travelers' checks, and bank money orders.

Two ways. One, listen and learn from your Full Service banker to help yourself become a money management expert. Two, when you need extra cash, borrow it from the bank instead of taking it out of your savings. This keeps your savings account intact and growing and gives you a chance to build a credit reputation.

Get To Know Your Banker Before You Need Him
 A Full Service banker is a full-time

That's all there is to it. Soon you'll find you can borrow sizable sums of money easily and inexpensively. If this sort of step-by-step plans for financial success makes sense to you, the place to begin is at a Full Service commercial bank. It's never too early.
